

Launch of the Month: Hatton Creek Ramp

"What's your favorite local paddling place?" is an interview question asked in each paddler profile. In last month's edition, Joan Ellis gave a familiar answer, "Any place I have not paddled." If that response reflects your own thinking, you will appreciate a new feature, Launch of the Month, intended to appear monthly as space permits. The launches are taken from an online atlas of the same created by Ralph Heimlich and published on the CPA web site. The Chesapeake Paddler hopes to inspire the explorer in each of you, assisting you to find hidden gems and new adventures. Please submit your own discoveries to help other members expand their horizons. Sharing information helps all of us building a "library" of options. ♦
